The Substack Creator Accelerator Fund Application

Application Deadline: Rolling Applications Until Filled

The Substack Creator Accelerator Fund is designed to help creators expand their reach and business by taking advantage of Substack's growth network and full suite of publishing, community, and discovery tools. On Substack they can build their own home on the internet: one where creators, not platform executives or advertisers, own their work and their audience.

The Awesome Foundation Grant

Application Deadline: Rolling Applications

The Awesome Foundation is a global community advancing the interest of awesome in the universe, $1000 at a time.

Each fully autonomous chapter supports awesome projects through micro-grants, usually given out monthly. These micro-grants, $1000 or the local equivalent, come out of pockets of the chapter's "trustees" and are given on a no-strings-attached basis to people and groups working on awesome projects.
